

Over the last three to four years Ive developed five sets of five tools, based on the sequence of 1-2-3-4-5, to help me reach my full potential by developing daily habits with tools which help me organize, prepare, and execute my day with more ease. I would like to share these tools with you to describe how they have been helpful for me. I hope my description of these tools will be useful for you in developing a set of tools which will help you with organizing and planning your day (and life) as well! ~ Gary By Gary A Gilbert copyright 2011
